BOARD/CONGREGATIONAL MEETING: An irregular congregational meeting will be held immediately following the morning service for the purpose of expanding the Board of Directors to 7. We are in need of a Clerk and because of illness, etc., need an additional member of the Board. Please attend and vote.

POTLUCK SUPPER: January 21st. Theme "Soul Food".

SPECIAL SERVICE NEXT SUNDAY: We will be honoring the birthday of Dr. Martin Luther King with a special service next Sunday. Since MCC is a church in the liberation theology tradition, we need to honor the root of that tradition in the Black Church. If our Black brothers and sisters had not led the way, we would not have had a path to follow. Let us share in the music of liberation and the prophetic voice of Dr. King.

TROY PERRY, Founder of MCC, will be preaching at MCC New Orleans on January 18th. Many of us will be making a trip to hear him. If you wish to go, please see Pat. We expect to leave at 12 noon but could be convinced to leave later. Service is at 7.

GULF SOUTH GAY NEWS

VOL. 8, NO. 1

January 6th—January 19th, 1984

FREE

Now serving New Orleans • Baton Rouge • Lafayette • Lake Charles • Alexandria

Will Ronald Reagan Face an Early Retirement from Angry Gay Vote?

Their numbers nationally are unknown. Some political observers put the figure at over 10 million—others say the total count is even higher.

But one thing is sure: the gay population is increasing and that is translating to jitters and joyous anticipation among political groups who are looking to the faction for their political leanings.

According to Tom Chorlton, executive director of the National Association of Gay and Lesbian Democratic Clubs, gays could make all the difference in 1984—if only they get involved and vote.

"Now is the time to get directly involved," said Chorlton in an article published nationally. "Not surprisingly, presidential candidates and party leaders support those who have earned that support through hard work and visibility."

True to form, Chorlton is encouraging interested gays everywhere to check out the local procedure for running as a delegate to the 1984 Democratic Presidential convention and hopefully to influence party policy with regard to specific gay issues.

While some gay leaders openly feel dubious about such involvement, Republican strategists are not taking the threat lightly. Already worried about the low support for President Ronald Reagan among women, blacks, Hispanics, and blue collar workers, these GOP officials feel that the inclusion of gays into the anti-Reagan fold may end up being the straw that breaks the president's back.

Said one political columnist: "If all the people that are sick of Reagan and everything he stands for get out and vote, he'd lose by the biggest landslide in history."

Playing on that same hunch, the Reverend Jesse Jackson has announced plans to form what he calls a "Rainbow Coalition" composed of gays, women, middle and lower-class workers and blacks—all united in the same goal of replacing Reagan in the White House with a Democratic alternative.

Chorlton, who has gone on record as being greatly opposed to what he views as the Reagan administration's blatantly anti-gay views, has advised would-be gay activists to "demand your rights." Noting that the Democratic party has a long-standing commitment to both gay rights and the Equal Rights Amendment, Chorlton continued, "Many of the party leaders and state executive directors will actually be very supportive. Start now to build a long-term working relationship with them."

D-day for the Democratic candidates is fast approaching with the Iowa and New Hampshire presidential contests slated for the last week of February. Some strategists believe that if such candidates as Walter Mondale and John Glenn maintain their leads in the balloting, most of the also-rans will be quickly forced to withdraw from the race.

In that case, the selection of delegates from the remaining state primaries will be even more crucial.

In 1980, the Lesbian and Gay Caucus at the New York Democratic Convention included 77 openly gay delegates. At the same time, the Republican convention voted down its long-standing support of the ERA and courted such openly anti-gay leaders as the Reverend Jerry Falwell.

Chorlton believes the history of the two parties speak for themselves and that 1984 may be the first year that gay strength is felt at the polls. To underline his point, he has announced in a nationally released newsletter that the National Association of Gay and Lesbian Democratic Clubs has more than 110 supportive organizations in 46 states and the District of Columbia.

Said Chorlton, "In 1984, the rules are tougher, the candidates far more numerous and the election process is shorter. It will take more determination and hard work than ever before...But, it can and must be done."

Volleyball Jocks Coming... This Weekend by George Lombard

January 6-8 will mark one of the first and largest national gay athletic events to ever be held in New Orleans, as over one hundred gay athletes will be in town to compete in the first annual Gay Mardi Gras Classic Volleyball tournaments, sponsored by the New Orleans Volleyball Association.

The festivities kick off Friday with registration at Menefee's 9-11 p.m. Competition takes place Saturday and Sunday, 9 a.m.-5 p.m., at the UNO Health & P.E. Centre (corner of Elysian Fields and Leon C. Simon). Sunday's competition will break at 3 p.m. for a presentation by the New Orleans Gay Men's Chorus, followed by the championship match. The Mississippi River Bottom will be the site of Saturday's Half-Time Party at approximately 11:30 p.m., while Sunday's 8 p.m. Post-Game Show will take place at the Travis Showbar, ending the tournament activities.

Saturday's competition will have the twelve teams divided into two pools of six to engage in round-robin pool playing. The top four teams from each pool will compete in the double-elimination championship bracket, leaving the remaining teams to square off in the consolation bracket—also double-elimination.

Heading the field is New York with three teams entered; the "A" team, commonly known as "The Big Apples," will be a big threat to take the title. Also among the top seeds are Chicago and Champaign. NOVA itself will be fielding three home teams (purple, green and gold), with "New Orleans Purple" (traditionally known as the Hurricanes) also making a stiff challenge at the crown. "I look forward to all three of our teams doing well," says NOVA player-coach George Lombard. "A team from New Orleans has never won a tournament, and I think it is time for us to finally win one. Later, we've been playing excellent defense and coverage, so what better time and place to execute it than at our own tournament." Dallas, Atlanta, Houston and Austin also have good chances of making the championship bracket. The final championship match is scheduled for 3:30 p.m. Sunday, to be immediately followed by the awards presentation. All matches are free and open to the community.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

RE: SCOTT ALAN HUNSBERGER, white/male, dob 03/09/61, S.S.#268-86-8765, 5'6", 130 lbs., brown hair/green eyes, A/K/A: Barry Davis, Bartholomew Davis, Eric Neal, George Alan Simpson, Barry Monsoon, William Mushrush, Frank John Sobkowski, Eric Hunsberger, Eric Neill, Daniel Sax, and Reid La Londe.

Scott Alan Hunsberger was apprehended at a shopping mall in Columbus, Ohio on Friday, December 16, 1983. He was observed walking in the mall by an individual who remembered the wanted person bulletins on Hunsberger that appeared in the local gay newspapers. This individual notified the police, and Hunsberger was taken into custody.

Scott Hunsberger was in Los Angeles, Calif., from August 12, 1983 to November 15, 1983. He left Los Angeles, and his whereabouts were unknown until he was apprehended in Columbus, Ohio on December 16, 1983.

WANTED BY POLICE DEPARTMENTS: Reading, PA.; Rochester, NY; Las Vegas, NV; Dallas, TX; Sacramento, CA; Marin Co. Sheriff Dept., CA; and Cobb County Sheriff Dept., Marietta, GA.

Scott Hunsberger locked himself behind bars. The only thing the police did was take a form of cancer out of society. Whether that society be gay or straight, we know that our function to the community was served to the best of our ability.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the members of the Gay Press Association for their co-operation in printing the wanted person bulletins. Also a special thanks to the gay community for getting involved. For six months I tracked Hunsberger around the United States, and this was only made possible by the gay community getting involved. Without their involvement, Scott Alan Hunsberger would still be free. Again, thanks to all who assisted in making my job a little easier.

Dear Editor:

Why does Jerry Falwell disagree with Moses? Why does Jerry Falwell preach against the teachings of the Holy Bible?

What to do about "wet dreams" is covered in Deuteronomy 23:10-11, and what to do when you're horny and without a female is covered in the next three verses, Deuteronomy 23:12-14.

There are two apparent purposes for these sex teachings. One is that if one ejaculates outside a female, it should also be outside the camp, or home. The other is that horny people should segregate themselves from others to avoid stimulating them and distracting them.

These five verses of non-reproductive sex, taught as the divinely inspired words of Moses in the Holy Bible, are a virtual blueprint for gay sexuality and gay bathis.

To paraphrase Moses, "If anyone gets messed by the mess that happens in the night, go wash it off and forget about it. You shall have a place away from your home where you can shoot-off freely, and you shall beat on your sex organ; and when you relieve yourself, clean up your cum, or ejaculate, so the Lord (or anyone else) won't have to look at it."

It's doubtful that Moses expected the men of the camp to stand in line to go into the place to jerk-off privately, so it surely was intended that they masturbate together as needed, but in one special place away from ordinary social activity.

Isn't it about time that the Rev. Jerry Falwell preach a sermon on TV taken from Deuteronomy 23:10-14, or drop the subject altogether?

Dear Editor:

Once again we are faced with blatantly inaccurate information coming from the Reagan Administration. While the Administration has been insisting that federal agencies had all the money they needed to conduct AIDS research, we now have proof that officials of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services have been pleading for financial assistance to do their job.

According to documents obtained under the Freedom of Information Act by the San Francisco Chronicle, federal health officials warned as early as last spring that there was not enough federal money available to conduct vital AIDS research.

The Center for Disease Control in Atlanta has been forced to divert millions of dollars from other health projects because the Reagan Administration has not made AIDS funds available.

The Intergovernmental Relations and Human Resources Subcommittee of the U.S. House of Representatives has issued a report criticizing the Reagan Administration for jeopardizing the "lives of countless Americans" by overriding reports by medical experts in allocating funds for the fight against AIDS.

The Congressional Study reports that researchers and physicians of the Public Health Department were "subjected to severe political and fiscal restraints, especially in times of shrinking federal budgets for public health programs."

Clearly the Administration is willing to risk lives in order to perpetuate its claims that additional AIDS research money is not necessary.

It is time that these people face the reality of the AIDS crisis. I am proud that I was able to obtain an additional $2.9 million for the University of California budget for AIDS research. It is most appropriate that the State of California help provide a vehicle for research into this dreaded disease which has been called the most serious health threat since the plague. But the State cannot do the job alone.

The Federal Government has moved very slowly with regards to AIDS research and funding. The Reagan Administration has sent out a smokescreen designed to hide its lack of dedication and effort to solve the AIDS puzzle and bring this deadly disease under control.

As the Congressional Report concludes, "Unfortunately, the lives of countless Americans may be jeopardized when the scope of AIDS research and surveillance is dictated by budget considerations rather than the professional judgements of public health and medical experts."

The House panel recommended three steps to improve the Government's handling of the AIDS epidemic and other health emergencies: a contingency fund for research in health crises; development of procedures at the National Institute of Health to expedite research grants in an emergency; and creation of an independent research panel to review, research and develop a strategy and budget to fight AIDS.

I urge you to contact your representatives in Washington and express your support for these proposals which will help to bring an end to the Reagan Administration's life threatening charade.

Gay People Urged to "Talk Back" to the Media

The Media Fund for Human Rights has announced a major, nationwide campaign to make gay people more critical of the media. The campaign was launched with an exhibit during the November convention of the National Association of Business Councils in Los Angeles. Convention-goers were invited to view a video tape of the media coverage of many gay issues and to respond to a questionnaire. The tape is available for viewing by gay groups around the country.

The Media Fund for Human Rights is a tax-exempt charitable and educational organization, founded by the Gay Press Association, the international association of gay media professionals.

"Local groups have been doing incredibly successful consciousness-raising among media officials in their communities," according to Mike Rutherford, Executive Director of the Media Fund. "Now, the time has come for us to be sending our version of breaking news stories directly into the electronic news systems of the country—and do it on a national level." It's a task, he says, which will take full-time professionals, lots of money, and co-operation among gay groups nationwide.

"If we could just match the technical facilities of the Moral Majority, we could begin to counter some of the 'media fagbashing' which is going on," said Morgan Pinney, CPA, who is Chief Executive Officer for the project.

The heart of the operation of the Media Fund is the computerized electronic network, established more than a year ago by the Gay Press Association and now operated by the Media Fund. The system is now accessible by any group in the country, using any of the popular home computers connected over regular telephone lines to the "host" computer in New York. Any group can leave messages for any other group or disseminate press releases to all groups. Members of special subgroups, such as gay lawyers or gay journalists, will communicate within their special sections of the system. "All of this will result in a better and more rapidly informed gay community, and everyone will be in touch with the Media Fund as we send news and analysis directly into the electronic new systems of the country," according to Pinney.

The Media Fund can be contacted through its national office in Washington, D.C. at 1110 Rhode Island Avenue, N.W., Zip 20005. The phone is 202-387-2430.

"INTERACT"— New Orleans

Some interested parties met recently at the home of Dan Creagan to begin the formation of "INTERACT-New Orleans."

This organization's goal is to provide a social outlet outside the "bars" that will allow interaction within the over 40 age group. (People under 40 years of age can join also, as INTERACT would appreciate the help of all interested parties).

Besides a social outlet, plans are for giving aid to those needing job opportunities and medical assistance. INTERACT is a friendship organization offering just that for those interested.

For further details please contact Dick O'Connor at Impact, P.O. Box 52079, New Orleans, La. 70152.

Ballet Trockadero to make New Orleans Appearance

Les Ballets Trockadero de Monte Carlo will perform at The Theatre of the Performing Arts on Wednesday and Thursday, January 25th & 26th, at 8 p.m. The Trocks are an all-male satire troupe of professional dancers performing ballet and modern repertoire in faithful renditions of the traditional styles. They perform a first-rate spoof of the grand traditions of classical ballet, with hairy-chested men in tutus pushing every ballet convention to its limits. The Trocks will perform with full corps de ballet, including Tamara Boumdiyeva, Igor Slowpokin, Sonia Leftova, Suzina LaFuzziovitch, Lavrenti "Biff" Stroganoff, and Mikhail Babushnakov.

Their Wednesday evening performance will be Swan Lake, Act II, Spring Waters, The Lamentations of Jane Eyre, Pas de Quatre, Dying Swan and Yes Virginia, Another Piano Ballet. Thursday evening's performance will be Giselle, Pas de Deux (to be announced), The Marche Slav, The Dying Swan and Go For Borococo.

From their first midnight performances in off-off-Broadway lofts in 1974, the Trocks have grown to become a truly international dance company. Their extensive touring schedule has taken them throughout the U.S. and Canada, as well as to Europe, South Africa, Latin America, Australia and Japan. The Trocks have delighted audiences in New York with their performances at The Civic Center.

Della Reese to Bring "Blue in the Night" to New Orleans

A Broadway musical that is winning rave reviews across the country and bringing some much-deserved attention to the versatile and energetic singing style of Della Reese will make it to "the City That Care Forgot" Thursday, January 26 through Saturday, January 28 at the Saenger Performing Arts Center.

Blues in the Night, a lamenting, wistful, and poignant story of a once-famous musical star now down and out of all reasonable expectations, is an almost sensuous visit to the land of jazz and blues.

The musical, which won a Tony award in 1983 for the best musical of the year, tells of the emotions and realities behind the performer—the part the public never sees.

Ingenuously, the tale is told entirely to music. And that's where the true beauty of Blues in the Night comes to fore. Almost all of the songs are standards long etched in stone. Johnny Mercer, Alberta Hunter and even the legendary Bessie Smith were responsible for most of the truly classy dittys in the musical.

Set in a broken-down hotel in Chicago in 1938, Blues in the Night gives ample opportunity to exhibit the wide range of Miss Reese's vocal ability. The former regular of such TV shows as Chico and the Man and The Tonight Show, Miss Reese is a veteran vocalist who has charmed many for over thirty years on the night club circuit.

In Blues in the Night Miss Reese is joined by singer/actresses Neva Small and Cynthia White.

Critic Clive Barnes has called the musical "entertainment to warm the body and soul," adding "the mixture of genuine jazz is expert at varying the pace of the show and providing its three women with varying emerging characterizations."

For more information on Blue in the Night, call the Saenger Theatre at 524-0876.

Shari Lewis: A Little Bit of Everything Good

by Garry Boulard

When Shari Lewis walked out onto the stage of the Orpheum Theatre just before Christmas she looked as though she could have been a well-known singer, the kind who really knows how to belt a tune and sense a lyric. And she did.

But then the petite Lewis ambled over to the conductor's podium, fronting the impressive New Orleans Philharmonic, picked up the conductor's baton, and looked as though she could be one of those rare birds—a woman who knows how to conduct a giant orchestra with all the grace and vision of most of her male counterparts. And she did.

Then, finally, Lewis stopped conducting and turned to her attentive audience. She had a radiant smile and a tremendous sense of quick-witted humor. "I was toilet trained at the piano," she said. "Really, my parents put a potty underneath the piano bench and there I was—tinkling at the keys." And one thought this woman is a humorist, a comedian who could carry her weight with Carol Burnett or Mary Tyler Moore. And she does.

But all of those wonderful talents are mere appendages to the skill and magic that Shari Lewis has become most known for: her beguiling, almost mystical abilities as a puppeteer and the wonderful ways of such children's show luminaries as Lamb Chop and the Southern Hush Puppy.

In the early 1960's, Shari Lewis was the target of millions of children's affections as she revealed her magical ways before a nationwide television audience on NBC every Saturday morning.

Her puppets—again Lamb Chop was the big hit—were a startling break from the medium up to that point. Most pubescent TV watchers were familiar with the wooden, stiff, and definitely un-real antics of such puppets as Howdy Doody and Kukla, Fran and Ollie.

Shari Lewis and Lamb Chop were something different. Here was a soft, furry little animal that had a biting sense of humor. The kids liked Lamb Chop because she was cute and soft. The parents liked Lamb Chop because she fired off a series of double-entendres that even Johnny Carson might not be able to pull off.

It was an upbeat, fast-tempoed show and Lewis became a national celebrity.

But, suddenly she disappeared, off of television and far away from the 1970's political movements of her contemporaries. The absence was due to Lewis' desire to raise a family and perfect a talent Cont. on Page 9

that fairly shines: her abilities as a serious symphony conductor.

One can't help but wonder what type of person Shari Lewis really is. What's it like to know up close a woman who has extraordinary ventriloquist powers and yet the sheer intelligence to endow those little animals she creates with personalities completely believable?

Lewis gives few clues. She's a private woman. But on stage she tantalizes the curious with an interesting statement: "I never lie during a show. In a private conversation with you, well, maybe. But never on stage to an audience."

It would be hard to imagine Lewis as anything less than her onstage personae. She's one of those beguiling combinations of chutzpah, little girl witticisms, and big girl sexual suggestion.

And as she showed in New Orleans—the last stop on an 11-city tour—she is also something of a genius artist. Out of nowhere, she tells the audience that despite all of her achievements there is still one thing that she has never been able to accomplish: dance with Fred Astaire.

As the music builds and Lewis runs off stage, one wonders just what to expect next. Then—and it's a big "then"—Lewis and Astaire enter to a full orchestral sweep and the stunned applause of the audience.

No, it's not the Fred we've all come to know and love. But a life-size puppet that dances elegantly with Shari to the tune of "Cheek to Cheek."

The act is a tour de force. And some of the puppets—like the Astaire execution—are almost eerily real.

But Lewis is always the clever one. What was it that made her old NBC show so refreshing? It was Lewis' penchant for being honest. As the entire New Orleans audience was beginning to believe that this Lamb Chop character was actually a real, breathing entity, Lewis quickly destroyed the imagery. "Why are you talking so much?" Shari asked Lamb Chop. Lamb Chop quickly replied, "Because you like to talk so much."

Said Time-Picayune writer David Cuthbert, "(Shari's shows) were quality entertainment, because Lewis is an exceptional entertainer—a ventriloquist who offers richly humorous characterizations coupled with flawless technique. She is also an energetic musical comedy performer. Her shows, in fact, were original, mini-musical comedies."

Over twenty years later, the Shari Lewis magic is still entrancing and exhilarating.

Sherwood's Forest

By Wally Sherwood

It's often said that we are not getting older, but better. If that adage can apply individually, it also can collectively. In this case, it's the New Orleans Gay Men's Chorus.

In its three gala holiday concerts at St. Mark's Church, the singers served a festive toast as fine as well-aged wine. It is simply amazing how the choir has matured over the past year.

Under the tutorage of Jerry Zachary, the group has emerged from a sometimes uneven group last season into a well-balanced format in which each chorus member readily compliments the other. Whatever the obstacles were before, the weaknesses have obviously been overcome.

Even this concert's selections were more-balanced than usual, starting out with traditional and, after intermission, working its way into more modern carols and, yes, even show tunes. It was a wondrous mixture and, as an advertisement proclaims, "All you do is add people."

"Alleluia" by Randall Thompson was, of course, an expected highlight of the evening, especially on the heels of the chorus' triumphant showing at New York City's Lincoln Center last September. But there was so much more to enjoy during this loving tribute to Shannon Bordelon. The shifting scenes and settings—some concert style, some lined around the church, another brightly lit, others taper-lit—added to the overall joy of the occasion.

While the traditionals carried the program along well, I personally got into the spiritual section with such David Johnson arrangements as Mary Wore Three Links of Chain and Mary Had a Baby.

After the first portion, the chorus retired to don their gay apparel for a whimsical look at Christmas with a revamped version of the Tommie Conner tune entitled, I Saw Daddy Kissing Santa Claus—not to mention a very moving presentation of Do You Hear What I Hear?

The rousing-received program was supposed to end with the English carol, We Wish You a Merry Christmas, but the singers were called back for some well-earned encores.

But in wrapping up the Gay Men's Chorus' Christmas present to its community, I would have to tie some extra bows of bright ribbon on three numbers that were exceptionally well done.

Daryl Hancock, leader for the Bass I section, teamed up on two of these: A Christmas Carol with bass David Kemp and Have Yourself a Merry Little Christmas with tenor Mark Gideon. For Good King Wenceslas it was two tenors: choir president David Schwarz and his veep, John Sullivan.

The whole affair was not only balanced, but well put together.

And for the visuals, one could not help but be impressed with the stage renderings by Danny Butler and Virgil Ford—not to mention the handsome blue-and-silver program contributed by Richard T. Devin & Associates and prepared by Walter Kennedy.

Darrel Hamby and his friendly associates were in charge of the cash bar and finally, last but most certainly not least, my personal thanks go to bass Jonathan Houston for making the arrangements for the privilege of once again to come hear—and review—the New Orleans Gay Men's Chorus.

But the chorus was hardly the only organization busy over the holidays.

Almost as new as the New Year, the Krewe of Cerci made its debut with a ballon-filled bazaar in the courtyard of historic Lafitte's Blacksmith Shop.

Incidentally, the place bills itself as the "oldest bar in America"—and it probably is. It's well worth a visit and the old photographs are particularly interesting.

Over at the Galley House, Petronius was holding its annual Yule fete complete with a bountiful buffet. A week later, the action shifted to the Mississippi River Bottom which had donated a video recorder to be raffled off to benefit the oldest gay Krewe.

And congratulations go to the winner, my good neighbor and bartender at Mona's, George Hansen.

While on the subject of buffets and the Bottom, they really outdid themselves with their Cajun spread for patrons and friends New Year's Day—complete with two large, roasted pigs, catered by Flamingo's. Man, you talk about good eating!

More celebration was in order for Bob Brown, who can't decide whether he is a Capricorn or a Sagittarius, when he was surprised with a cake shaped like a huge cock and balls and other birthday goodies at Partners Saloon.

Another holiday party was the three-way hosted by Twiggy, Ken and Sandy at their environs at the corner of Rampart and Rue St. Peter. Steve served up a hot Swedish grog to ward off the cold during an open house co-hosted by Ken and Maxine.

The Golden Lantern, which really looked festive for New Year's Eve, was decked with miles and miles of red ribbon for the Salma Gundi show, during which Lurch and Robbie sparkled in The Pajama Game number, Steam Heat. (L'artiste)

Jackson's Place had a very cozy Christmas window display, while the Quarter Scene excelled with its outdoor decorations.

The Corner Pocket and the Bottom had very handsome trees, however, Lucille's & Friend—which was cleverly decorated with Western hats—had the most resplendent tree of all.

Gay Bowling Grows in New Orleans

Lucille's Athletic Department recently informed Impact Sports that their bowling league has started their 1983 winter bowling season. Ms. Lee Gorham, Vice-President, reported that for the first time in LAD's 3-year history the league is now officially sanctioned by both the American Bowling Congress and the Women's International Bowling Congress.

Colin Kennedy, President, advised Impact that the League's founder, Nick Donovan, remains with the league. "Nick is one of the Highest Rollers we have," Kennedy said. Giving Donovan credit for starting the league and keeping it together with both money and spirit for three years, Kennedy stated that he hopes to see the League grow to a competitive position and join the International Gay Bowling Organization this season.

Justin Dodson, Secretary/Treasurer, reported the following standing for the league as of January 2, 1984:

Dignity Remembers "Homosexual" Brothers at Local Prison

Christmas packets for prisoners were prepared for men at Orleans Parish Prison by DIGNITY, December 16. DIGNITY is an organization of lesbian and gay Catholics and their friends.

Items often asked for but difficult for inmates to obtain were included. A tablet, pencil, stamped envelopes, sheets of colored paper with colored felt-tip pens, a couple of Christmas cards, and puzzle booklets were placed in a manila envelope for each of one hundred prisoners. A greeting was also included. It read, "You are our brothers; you are not forgotten. May these simple items make your Christmas a little different from other days. Peace and God's blessing. DIGNITY."

The annual practice of preparing packets began four years ago when a Christian Brother, who works with the prisoners, informed DIGNITY of the neglect of the persons in the prison areas designated as Homosexual Tiers. These "homosexuals" (most of them are, but some are inmates who are put in that section because of their vulnerability to violence, etc.) are not permitted to participate in programs, in work details or in other activities. Their days are full of idleness, TV and boredom. They are also often overlooked when other prisoners are given such things as Salvation Army kits (toothbrush, toothpaste, comb and wash cloth) distributed at Christmas. Currently, there is a total of about one hundred men in the homosexual tiers of the House of Detention and Central Lockup.

Some weeks prior to the date for putting the packets together, donations of money and material were accepted. On December 16, at DIGNITY'S regular Friday night Coffee House, an assembly line was organized for stuffing manila envelopes with the items. On the following day, the packets were distributed personally to each prisoner on the designated tiers.

"Many prisoners have no money or outside contacts," said Brother Joe. "Some are not from this area and have not been able to inform loved ones of their whereabouts. If the single phone call permitted after arrest does not get through, a prisoner may go an extended time—or forever—before anyone knows his whereabouts. A stamped envelope and writing materials may allow contact."

According to inmates and those who work at the prison, a prisoner's day is pretty much limited to sleeping, eating, watching television and conversation. Reading and games are possible when materials are available. The prisoners said that, with the Christmas items, letters were written, puzzles worked, and home-made cards produced. "When one has nothing, a piece of paper and a pencil are a real treasure," said one.

A number of prisoners sent letters, some of them decorated (obviously with the colored pens given in the packets), to thank DIGNITY members. Wrote one, "You don't know how much it means to all of us for this special treat. Everyone up here was so delighted because some of us didn't have any of the items that were in the package and we sure did need them. I can surely say it was a 'Gift from Heaven!' Thank you very much! Please pray for me that I may get out soon and also for everyone up here. May you also have the Merriest of Christmases and the Happiest New Year, too." He decorated the letter with a green and red flower on the inside and a red heart on the outside.

Another wrote, "This letter is just a few lines to let the people know how it feels to be thought of by somebody on the outside at Christmas time or anytime for that matter when you really don't have anybody."

DIGNITY has a Coffee House open to all each Friday from 9 p.m. until 11:30 p.m. at the St. Louis Community Center, 1022 Barracks. Sunday Mass is at 4 p.m. at 3037 Dauphine.

Harlow's Opens at 534 St. Philip

An exciting little eatery will be making its debut in the French Quarter on Wednesday, January 11, according to restaurateur Bob Bernissant, who also owns the Quarter Scene. The restaurant is being named after the "Queen of the Silver Screen, Jean Harlow," and fans of hers will delight in the plans that have been made for the opening. For months Bernissant has been working on the idea, including a buying trip to New York to obtain memorabilia for the decorating. It will be a small, intimate place serving dinners only, which will be prepared by cooks trained as Cordon Bleu.

There will be different selections each day with the prices ranging from $5.95 to approximately $9.95, and these prices will include both a soup and salad. The selection will include unusual entrees, all pasta homemade, and exciting desserts.

The atmosphere, according to Bernissant, will be a "Queen's Delight," which is slated to be a simple touch of comfortable elegance surrounded by rare pictures of Harlow, the original queen of Hollywood.

Also, whenever weather permits, there will be a delightful patio for patrons who prefer that type of atmosphere.

Kicking off the opening with the flare that is synonymous with Bernissant will be a Harlow Look-a-Like Contest on Tuesday, January 10, at the Mississippi River Bottom. The contest will begin at 9:00 P.M. and is open to everyone. If you look like Jean Harlow or if you can make yourself look like her, you may be the winner of $250.00 in cash and a platinum wig.

Bernissant's interest in the New Orleans gay community goes beyond providing fine dining places—he also donates all proceeds from coffee sales the second Tuesday of the month at the Quarter Scene to AIDS. This donation includes the full 24 hours.

DIGNITY— New Orleans

The New Orleans celebration will consist of a spaghetti dinner at the St. Louis Community Center, 1022 Barracks Street, at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, January 20th. Following the dinner, Sr. Mary Michael O'Saugnessy O.P. will be speaking on the topic of: Gay as a Gift.

On Saturday, the 21st, a covered dish dinner and cash bar will be held at the Clinic, 540 Burgundy Street, at 8:00 p.m.

On Sunday an Anniversary Mass will be celebrated at 4:00 p.m. at St. Vincent De Paul Church, 3035 Dauphine Street, with a reception to follow.

Dignity sincerely invites all members, former members, and friends in the community to join in this anniversary celebration!

Glenn in More Trouble Over Gay Issue

John Glenn, the only candidate for the 1984 Democratic Presidential nomination who refuses to support a controversial lesbian and gay rights bill in the U.S. Senate, is receiving some politically damaging fall-out from his stand.

The chairman of Senator Glenn's New York presidential campaign announced in December that he was going to withdraw his support for the former astronaut and step down as his Empire State coordinator.

Manfred Ohrenstein, who is a minority leader in the state senate, said Glenn's stand on gay issues has greatly hurt his ability to lead a Democratic coalition against Ronald Reagan later this year.

In a wire report Ohrenstein said Glenn had "called into question his otherwise superb record on civil rights by engaging in a prolonged debate on lesbian and gay rights—an issue which has broad-based support within the Democratic party."

Continued Ohrenstein, "I have come to the painful conclusion that I cannot play the role in the campaign that I had set out for myself."

Glenn's remarks have cost him a great deal of support in various sections of the country and within the Democratic party. Already trailing former vice-president Walter Mondale in the polls, Glenn only hurt his campaign further last month by saying he would do nothing to knowingly "promote homosexuality."

Some political observers believe that Glenn's strong stand against the gay rights bill may have caused him to forsake the endorsement of the National Organization of Women. That group lined up solidly behind Mondale in early December.

Immediately after Ohrenstein's announcement, Glenn issued a statement from Washington in which he said that nothing was more important than a candidate "clearly and honestly" stating his convictions on the major issues. "I have done that. Sometimes that will lead me to differences with supporters and occasionally it will mean the loss of support. In that case, so be it."

"I believe deeply in civil liberties and social justice for all Americans," Glenn continued. "I have practiced that conviction throughout my life and career. That, however, is not the issue poised by legislation that would require the federal government to become involved in controversial questions concerning gay rights and lifestyles. I believe that federal intrusion into areas of personal behavior could set a dangerous precedent for unwarranted government involvement in the private lives of individuals."

Glenn said he regretted Ohrenstein's decision, but he would continue with his New York campaign nonetheless.

Ohrenstein, who represents one of the largest populations of gays in the country with his combined district of Greenwich Village and Manhattan, said he would not support another candidate.

But his withdrawal has apparently not doused the flames of Glenn's gay remarks. Virginia Apuzzo, the executive director of the National Gay Task Force, said her group is going to play hard in the coming months to put pressure on Glenn to better define his position on the issues.

Glenn may have answered Apuzzo—and put his feet in the hot water once again—when he went to New York just before Christmas and suggested that it might be prudent to exclude gays from certain jobs.

Those positions Glenn mentioned included the military, YMCA and intelligence agencies. He added that the federal government should not dictate the hiring of homosexuals as teachers.

Some activists and supporters of Glenn feel his remarks on the gay legislation and the reaction to that statement have been an unqualified disaster. "He got himself in all kinds of trouble, and it could have all been avoided," said one Glenn supporter.

Was Robert Sullivan, After Being Executed, Innocent?

A legal dispute that could hold strong and potent forebodings for the move among many states to return to the death penalty is presently underway in Florida. The case concerns itself with the execution in late November of Robert Sullivan.

Sullivan, an admitted gay, was convicted in the 1973 murder of a fast food restaurant manager in Homestead. At the time of his conviction, Florida had only a death row—the constitutional incidentals of capital punishment were still being argued among state and federal attorneys. Sullivan may have believed that he would be able to get a second hearing to over-turn his conviction once he gathered witnesses to prove that he was not anywhere near the scene of the murder.

But that second hearing never came about, and now Sullivan's attorney and several observers of our legal system are crying foul.

"Florida refused to grant Sullivan a new trial or stay his execution even though...new evidence established doubt as to Sullivan's guilt," said attorney Thomas Equels in The Miami Herald. "Where new evidence raised an issue regarding Sullivan's innocence, Sullivan's life should have been spared."

In the original case against Sullivan, lawyers for the prosecution presented a man who was supposed to have been Sullivan's accomplice in the robbery-murder that netted $2,700 and left dead Howard Johnson's restaurant manager Donald Schmidt.

When Sullivan said he was at a gay bar in Hallandale—more than forty miles away from the scene of the crime—his accomplice took the stand to testify that Sullivan wilfully pumped Schmidt's body with four bullets.

Arrested shortly after the Schmidt murder, Sullivan supposedly had the victim's watch and credit cards on him. But Sullivan denied everything. And he remained adamant on that issue after he was sent to death row, after Florida re-instated the death penalty in 1976, and even after Robert Graham was elected governor of Florida in 1978 on a platform that called for the regular use of capital punishment against convicted murderers.

Said Equels, "Sullivan's defense was that he was at a bar in Hallandale at the time of the crime. Three alibi witnesses could not be found for the trial but were later located. They raised the possibility that Sullivan's conviction was erroneous. However, Florida refused to grant Sullivan a new trial...."

Equels, a Miami attorney who represented the Catholic Bishops of Florida and the Florida Catholic Conference in an unsuccessful attempt to prevent the execution of Sullivan, added, "An execution is irreversible. It is unjust because it leaves no remedy for a mistake in the conviction of the condemned person. It is impossible to correct errors of judgment or wrongful manipulation that may have occurred in the administration of the process leading to execution."

Yet such thinking about the Sullivan case directly confronts the collective wisdom of the U.S. Supreme Court which rejected four appeals by Sullivan and declared that if anything was cruel about the death penalty in Sullivan's case, it was that defense attorneys kept dragging out the appeals process.

In a dramatic, last-minute attempt to save his own life, Sullivan brought his plea one last time before the U.S. Supreme Court the night before his execution.

Supreme Court justice Lewis Powell was asked to give Sullivan a stay of execution, but he instead took the matter up before the entire court. "This case has been in litigation for a full decade," the justices declared in an unsigned opinion. "With repetitive and careful reviews by both state and federal courts and by this court—there must come an end to the process of consideration and reconsideration."

So strong was the movement to electrocute Sullivan that even a plea from Pope John Paul II proved futile. Minutes before Sullivan was led to the chair, his head and lower right leg shaved, Governor Graham declared, "There are no stays. God save us all," and then Sullivan was charged with a surge of 2,000 volts.

But some believe it was the Burger Court that actually played the role of the catalyst in Sullivan's case. According to the rules established by the conservative Burger justices, a defendant can try again and again to have his case heard if something—like a faulty defense—occurred in his original hearing. But the claims are hardly ever considered to be worthy of another trial.

"Robert Austin Sullivan was convicted of murder and sentenced to death in November 1973," said Equels. "The Florida Supreme Court affirmed his conviction in 1974 and the U.S. Supreme Court refused to review the case as it would do every subsequent time Sullivan asked to be heard."

Equels continued, "Nothing more happened in the case until 1979, when Sullivan, represented by a new lawyer, filed a petition asking the state courts to review his conviction. That petition raised for the first time Sullivan's claim of improper sentencing procedures. Sullivan also claimed that his prior lawyers had been so incompetent that he had been denied his constitutional right to counsel."

A circuit judge in Dade County ruled against Sullivan shortly thereafter, even as Sullivan was refused his legal right to appear in court to testify on his claim.

In 1981 the 11th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals agreed that there may have been irregularities in Sullivan's case, but they rendered those complaints null and void simply because Sullivan and his first attorneys failed to raise any objections in the original trial.

In a similar article published by the Herald and written by attorney Patrick Malone, the entire capital punishment argument, stemming from Sullivan's much-publicized execution, was called in to question.

Said Malone: "Florida has approximately 200 persons on death row. Many of them, as did Sullivan, maintain that they are innocent. As the state begins to execute these people, it is only a matter of time before the people of Florida electrocute an innocent person. The probability may be one in 10, one in 50, or one in 200. Whatever it is, we can not deny that it exists. Executions are performed with the knowledge that an innocent person may soon be executed. That in unacceptable in a just society."

After the dark hood was placed over Sullivan's head, and a small whiff of smoke snuck out from under it during the first bolt of electricity, it was overwhelmingly apparent that the heavy set, dark-haired man—the gay Catholic who served the longest time in history on death row—would never get another chance to get a fair trial.

"We would often be ashamed of our finest actions if the world understood all the motives which produced them."

Francois de la Rochefoucauld (1613-1680) Maxims

National News—In Brief

LOS ANGELES—Researchers at the National Institute of Health and the University of California have reported that early work with monkeys and apes may provide a clue to the frustrating mystery of AIDS.

According to an article in the New York Times, the research at UCLA indicates that an unknown virus causes a disease in the primates that greatly resembles AIDS. "Experts are not certain that the two disorders are the same or are caused by the same agent," said the Times. "But they hope the primates may serve as a useful model. So far, attempts to transmit human AIDS to primates have failed."

CHICAGO—Karen Ulane, the Eastern Airline pilot who underwent a sex change operation in 1980, does not lose her ability to fly a plane competently just because she had the operation.

So said federal district judge John F. Grady last week in a ruling against Eastern's claim that Ulane was incompetent as a pilot because she concealed the fact that she regularly took female hormones.

Although the Federal Aviation Administration certified Ulane as fit for flying, Eastern refused to do so, resulting in Ulane's victory in court.

Judge Grady said it all added up to sex discrimination—the airline didn't dismiss men who failed to report that they were alcoholics, so why pick on Ulane?

Karen Ulane will now receive her back pay from the losing Eastern Airlines, which dismissed her three years ago.

HOUSTON—In a front page story published in the gay weekly, The Montrose Voice, Ohio Senator John Glenn has been severely criticized for his adamant anti-gay views, while former vice-president Walter Mondale has been applauded for his open mind on the issue.

"...former astronaut and current Senator John Glenn no longer has the right stuff as far as the gay community is concerned," said the newspaper with one of the largest weekly circulations in Texas.

In a separate article published by Time magazine, Glenn was shown to still have considerable support about Texas Democrats for his conservative views. But Mondale remains the favorite. Texas Democrats decide their preference in a party caucus on May 5.

LYNCHBURG, VIRGINIA—A plan by a group of gays to embarrass arch-conservative and Moral Majority leader Jerry Falwell have apparently laid an egg in his home town.

The manager of the Virginia Outdoor Advertising Association, the billboard company contracted out to install a series of large billboards promoting gay issues, has bowed out pending what the manager believes will be imminent public pressure.

According to one source, the manager at the billboard company was afraid of getting a "pounding" from the local community that Falwell rules with an iron thumb.

Some of the billboards, which were being sponsored by Blue Ridge Lambda Alliance, said "Someone You Know is Gay. Perhaps It's Someone You Love."

SAN JOSE, CALIFORNIA—Democratic presidential candidate George McGovern has joined the majority of his campaigning peers by coming out strongly for the full protection of women's rights.

McGovern, a former senator from South Dakota and a candidate in 1968 for the Democratic presidential nomination after the assassination of Bobby Kennedy, was the 1972 Democratic nominee for president. He lost in a landslide defeat to then-President Richard Nixon.

Shortly after he announced his intentions to run a third time for the nation's highest office, McGovern affirmed his support for several gay and lesbian issues currently pending legislation.

SEATTLE—The American Civil Liberties Union has announced that it will go to bat for the Seattle Gay News in a $1 million libel suit brought against the paper by Seattle's Brass Connection—a local gay and lesbian bar.

The lawsuit is in response to an article which appeared in the newspaper describing the arrest of a 22-year-old woman and adding that harassment of women and other minorities at the gay bar has been an ongoing policy for a long time.

In a complaint filed in Superior Court, the owner of the Brass Connection said that the paper has been regularly harassing the bar.

The ACLU stepped into the case when the Seattle Gay News let it be known that it didn't have the money to defend itself and because the legal organization has been on alert against libel suits around the country which, it has been feared, may greatly damage the freedom of papers to report stories unchecked by government or private agencies.

CLASSIFIED AD NOTICE

We will publish any classified ad, for practically any purpose or reason, provided that it does not violate existing Libel Laws and meets our oh-so-stringent, as Mink Stole puts it in "Pink Flamingoes," community standards regarding good taste, vulgarity, and the rest of that foolishness.

Non-profit organizations, Birth and Death notices, Messages (or a personal, snide, diatribe or hectoring nature) are all free. Yes, free, but then you know that, you sly pusses.

Now, we have to charge for the others. This means commercial classifieds, For Sale or For Rent ads taken out by individuals to get rid of hot diamond tiaras and unwanted progeny of pets, the hiring of people to do the windows with vinegar and brown paper, the renting of garages and slave-quarters and pieces of camelbacks, etc. et alia.

We also charge for our Personals ad in which you can solicit/describe that person or thing that will take you to places that even the poets only whisper about. And suppose you find Mr. or Miss Right? Isn't it worth a few bucks?

There is a $5 minimum for Paid Classifieds (a smart-looking bold face sub-heading is included in the $5 minimum if you wish), and confidentiality regarding Personals is assured. We can even assign you an exclusive box-number—and haven't you always wanted one deep down?—and forward your mail to you or you can grace us with your presence at our push Bywater offices and we can see whether or not you are lying in the self-description you put in your ad.

To place an ad, simply dip up a piece of paper, and allow 25¢ per word (remember the $5 minimum) and figure out the amount of money required. If you send the wrong amount, we will not print your ad, so don't say you weren't warned. Make payment to IM-FACT, P.O. Box 52079, New Orleans, LA 70152. Deadline for classified is the first and third Wednesday of each month. We must receive your classified by mail. Please—don't call the office—we no longer accept classifieds by phone.

To respond to a personal ad, include the box number in care of the above address.

Lift Every Voice and Sing

James Weldon Johnson, 1871 - 1938

J. Rosamond Johnson, 1873 - 1954

1. Lift ev - 'ry voice and sing, till earth and heav - en ring,
 2. Ston - y the road we trod, bit - ter the chast - ning rod,
 3. God of our wea - ry years, God of our si - lent tears,

Ring with the har - mo - nies of lib - er - ty;
 Felt in the days when hope un - born had died;
 Thou who hast brought us thus far on the way;

Let our re - joic - ing rise, high as the is - tning skies,
 Yet with a stead - y beat, have not our wea - ry feet,
 Thou who hast by thy might, led us in - to the light,

Let it re - sound loud as the roll - ing sea,
 Come to the place for which the fa - ther we pray,
 Keep us for - ev - er in the path, we theirs guided?

Sing a song full of the faith that the dark past has taught us,
 We have come o - ver a way that with tears has been wa - tered,
 Lest our feet stray from the plac - es, our God, where we met Thee,

Sing a song full of the hope that the pres - ent has brought us;
 We have come, tread - ing our path thro' the blood of the slaugh - tered,
 Lest our hearts, drunk with the wine of the world, we for - get Thee;

ff Fac - ing the ris - ing sun of our new day be - gun,
 Out from the gloom - y past, till now we stand at last,
 Shad - owed be - neath Thy hand, May we for - ev - er stand,

Let us march on till vic - to - ry is won,
 Where the white gleam of our bright star is cast,
 True to our God, true to our na - tive land,

I SHALL NOT BE MOVED

I shall not
I shall not be moved.
I shall not,
I shall not be moved.
Just like a tree that's planted by the water,
I shall not be moved.

2. Jesus is my savior
I shall not be moved.
3. On my way to glory,
I shall not be moved.

KUM BA YAH

Kum ba yah, my Lord,
Kum ba yah.
Kum ba yah, my Lord,
Kum ba yah.
O Lord, kum ba yah.

2. Someone's crying, Lord.
3. Someone's praying, Lord.
4. Someone's singing, Lord.
5. Someone needs you, Lord.

WE SHALL OVERCOME

We shall overcome;
We shall overcome.
We shall overcome,
some day...
O, deep in my heart,
I do believe,
We shall overcome some day.

2. We'll walk hand in hand.
3. We shall all have peace.

I LOVE TO TELL THE STORY

(Hankey)

- 1 I love to tell the story
Of unseen things above,
Of Jesus and of glory,
Of Jesus and of love.
I love to tell the story
Because I know 'tis true;
It satisfies my longings
As nothing else can do.
- R I love to tell the story,
'Twill be my theme in glory,
To tell the old, old story
Of Jesus and of love.
- 2 I love to tell the story,
More wonderful it seems
Than all the golden fancies
Of all our golden dreams.
I love to tell the story,
It did so much for me;
And that is just the reason
I tell it now to thee. R
- 3 I love to tell the story,
'Tis pleasant to repeat
What seems, each time I hear it,
More wonderfully sweet.
I love to tell the story,
For some have never heard
The message of salvation
From God's own Holy Word. R
- 4 I love to tell the story,
For those who know it best
Seem hungering and thirsting
To hear it like the rest.
And when, in scenes of glory,
I sing the new, new song,
'Twill be the old, old story
That I have loved so long. R

And we will sing for a long, long time!

I, Robert F. Bouch, do hereby wish to place my name in consideration for the position of member of the Interim Board of Elders of the Metropolitan Community Church of Pensacola. I have been a member of this church since 9 Sep 1979 and of the Board since it was elected last year, and feel I am qualified and know the needs of the church and would like to be a part of the chartering process which will take place within the next year. I have been a regular attendee and provide substantially to the financial needs as a tither. I feel these are 2 requirements for being a member of the board. I was this church's delegate to the bi-annual conference in Houston, Texas and feel I know what we need to do to charter and will help us meet this goal.

Nominating Committee
Metropolitan Community Church of Pensacola

By this letter I would like to submit my name for another term as a member of the interm board of directors. My qualifications for continuance in this post include 10 years of budgeting and financial experience as Treasurer and board member of the largest building materials dealer in Pensacola, incorporator of both a non-profit and a profit seeking corporation, and am currently general manager of a non-profit agency that counsels people with financial problems.

If our Lord continues to bless us with growth, both in numbers and in finances, we will probably incorporate our church next year. I submit that a board member who has handled the incorporation of other entities would be useful in this process.

As I see it, a board member should be extremely active in the church and supportive of its functions. For several years, I have taken seriously the oath I gave upon joining this church to support it with my time, my talents, and my tithe.

In Christ's love, I remain,

Yours truly,

Ralph L Cahall

CONGREGATIONAL MEETING WAS HELD at the Metropolitan Community Church of acola on April 4, 1982.

Barbara called the meeting to order with prayer.

The roll was taken by the clerk of the Board. 15 members present.
Needed 8 votes majority to carry a motion.

Barbara clarified how the S.O.P.'s (Standard Operating Procedures) were drawn up and explained that they can be added to or subtracted from.
She also explained that if they were ratified by the congregation tonight, that they would go to the District Coordinator, and if he approved them, they went on to the Board of Elders. If the Board of Elders approved them, they would send us a letter stating that, and then the S.O.P.'s become binding to the church.

The clerk of the Board made a motion to accept the S.O.P.'s as presented by the committee. 2nd. A discussion was opened up by Barbara for 5 minutes.
A vote was called for. In favor: 15; opposed 0. The motion carried unanimously. The S.O.P.'s will be sent to the District Coordinator.

The name change of the SANDSCRIPT was discussed. Barbara stated that she recently found out that the church newsletter has had 2 names since it was first published. One of course was the SANDSCRIPT, the other was JOY. Barbara asked the will of the congregation. Do you want us to change the name? By a show of hands, it was majority rule to leave it as it is, the SANDSCRIPT.

The Lay Delegate was also discussed. Since Scott S. resigned the position, the assist. Lay Delegate took the job. That was Frankie. She made a motion that Bob be the Lay Delegate and that she be allowed to remain the assist. Lay Delegate. It was 2nd. A vote was called for. The I's have
it. Motion Carried.

LET IT BE NOTED, THIS WAS THE FASTEST MOVING CONGREGATIONAL MEETING IN HISTORY.

With no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 9:10 P.M.

Barbara offered the closing prayer.

For a total assests of $614.30

NO OTHER STAFF REPORTS

COMMITTEES

Scott Gray addressed the board concerning the need for $50 for the Christmas Dinner. Bob asked Scott had he not received enough contributions? If so, he would not need the $50. Scott said he had received some contributions, but not enough.

Barbara asked the board if they had asked congregation members at random if they were "for" or "against" giving the money.

Betty said that the ones she spoke with were opposed and preferred to return to the Pot-Luck dinners.

Bob said that the ones he spoke to were basically against

Ralph stated that most of the people he had spoken to felt that the money that was contributed to the church was for the work of the Church, and not for parties.

Barbara asked the congregation present their feelings:

Several were "for", 1 "against", and 1 felt that we should give a limited amount.

A lengthy discussion followed and Ralph motioned that the Board contribute $20 towards the Christmas dinner. Bob 2nd the motion. The Motion carried.

ASSIST. LAY DELEGATE, Scott Stetson as permission from the Board to work up a survey about the church and present at 1st meeting in January. He would have a survey to fill out, no names, just to see what the people of the church like/dislike, etc. Ralph wanted to know how he will keep for getting duplicates, without using people's names. Scott said that when the people turn in their sheets, he will write down their names on a sheet of paper. The Board was infavor, and permission was granted.

SANDSCRIPT

The Board felt that there should be a committee to gather input to put in the Sandscript. Gregg stated that there hasn't been alot of input, and it seemed that no one cared. Barbara asked Gregg if there was any way that he could possibly reconsider, and remain the editor of the Sandscript. Gregg said no that he was changing jobs, and it would be impossible. Scott Gray said that he would volunteer as the new editor, and Jim said that he would be glad to help no matter who the new editor would be. The Board decided to delay taking any action, and decided to make a decision at a later date.

With no other business to discuss, the meeting was adjourned with prayer at 9:27 P.M.
